TO THE LADIES OF CHICAGO AND SUBURBS.

The BON TON DIRECTORY is intended to be a Book of Reference, and its object is to enable ladies at a glance to learn the address of their friends and acquaintances, and days or hours of reception.

As we go to press, if there is a mistake in the Book we are not aware of it, as we have obtained all names through a thoroughly trained corps of canvassers, and we believe we not only have the names, but the initials and addresses, correct.

Very Respectfully,

HARRIS & MORROW, Publishers.

DESCRIPTIVE LETTER.

From a Young Lady visiting Chicago to her Parents in the East.

CHICAGO, June 20, 1879.

DEAR PARENTS:—Having been the rounds among our relatives here, I seat myself to give you some idea of this wonderful city, in many respects one of the most remarkable on the face of the earth, having a population to-day of nearly, if not quite, 500,000. You have heard so much of the city that I must give you a brief sketch of its history.

The first white man ever known to have set foot on the spot where Chicago now stands was a French missionary from Canada, named Pierre Jaques Marquette, who, with two others, having been on a missionary tour in the southern part of Illinois, when homeward bound was detained in this place in the fall of 1673, in consequence of the severe cold, until the following spring. That was over two hundred years ago.

The first settler that came here was Point-au-Sable, a St-Domingo negro, who, in 1796, commenced a few improvements—eighty-three years since. Au-Sable soon afterward removed to Peoria Ill., his improvements passing into the hands of one Le Mai, a Frenchman who traded considerably with the Indians. The first permanent settler here was John Kinzie, who came over from St. Joseph, Mich., and commenced his improvements in 1804—seventy-five years ago. Mr. Kinzie was indeed what Romulus was to Rome, the founder of the city.

There was a fort built that year, a block house made of logs, a few rods southwest of what is now known as Rush street bridge. Mr. Kinzie had a house near the south end of the bridge, which bridge, of course, had no existence in those days. An employe of Mr. Kinzie, named Ouillette, had a cabin a little west of Mr. Kinzie's; and a little farther west was the cabin of one Burns, a discharged soldier.

South of the fort, on the South Side, a Mr Lee had a farm in the low swamp lands, where now stands the heart of the business center of the city, and his cabin was a half mile or so down the river.

For a quarter of a century the growth of the city was remarkably slow, as shown by the fact that in 1830 there were but twelve houses in the village, with three suburban residences on Madison street—the entire population, whites, half-breeds and negroes, making about one hundred—that was forty-nine years ago.

I should have told you that Chicago has a river, which is doubtless the cause of the wonderful commercial growth of the place of late years, which, at the time of its discovery, was two hundred feet wide and twenty feet deep, with banks so steep that vessels could come up to the water's edge and receive their lading. A half mile or more from the mouth of the river the stream divides—that portion north of the stream being known as the North Side, that between the forks the West Side, and that south of the river the South Side.

At that time the North Side was covered with a dense forest of black walnut and other trees, in which there were bears, wolves, wild-cats, deer and other game, in great abundance—while the South Side, now the business center, was a low, swampy piece of ground, being the resort of wild geese and ducks. Where the court-house now stands was a pond, which was navigable for small boats. On the bank of the river, among the sedgy grass, grew a wild onion, which the Indians called Chikago, and hence the name of the city.

On a summer day, in 1831, the first vessel unloaded goods at the mouth of the river. In 1832, the first frame house was built by Geo. W. Dole, and stood on the southeast corner of Dearborn and South Water streets. At an election for township trustees in 1833, just forty-six years since, there were twenty-eight voters. In 1840, there were less than 5,000 people in the place. Thus, you see, this city, now the fourth, in the order of population, in the United States, has grown from 5,000 to 500,000 in thirty-nine years.

It is needless for me to describe the wonderfully rapid rebuilding of the city since the fire. You have heard all about it. In my next I will describe the parks and boulevards about the city. Till then, adieu.

Your affectionate daughter,

CLARA.

NOTES OF INVITATION TO PARTIES.

Notes of invitation to a large party can be printed in any style you wish, but always worded in the third person.

Invitations should be written or printed upon a whole sheet of small note paper, and should be issued at least a week before the time appointed for the party, so that, if necessary, a suitable dress may be obtained. For a costume ball or masquerade, two weeks is the usual time allowed for preparation.

The letters R. S. V. P. are sometimes put at the end of a note. They stand for the French phrase, Répondez, s'il vous plait: An answer if you please. It is better, however, when an answer is particularly desired, to say: "An answer will oblige."

It is courtesy to reply promptly to a note of invitation requesting an answer. If no reply is requested, and you send no regrets, it is understood that you accept the invitation.

Send invitations to persons in your own city or neighborhood by your own messenger. It is regarded as a violation of etiquette to send them by mail.

FAMILIAR INVITATION TO A WEDDING.

No.—, — St., Dec. 12, 18—.

DEAR HATTIE:—I have issued but few invitations to our Aggie's wedding, as we desire it to be almost entirely private, but the presence of a few dear friends will give us pleasure. Can we count you among those few? The ceremony will be at seven on Thursday evening next, December 18th., and at eight we will receive the other invited guests. Hoping to see you early, I am

Yours affectionately, BERTHA HANSON.

ANSWER ACCEPTING THE INVITATION.

No.—, — St., Dec. 13, 18—.

MY DEAR BERTHA:—I accept with great pleasure your kind invitation to Aggie's wedding, and will be punctual. I most earnestly pray that she may be very happy in her new life and home. Please give her my kindest love and best wishes.

Your friend, HATTIE HARMON.

ANSWER DECLINING THE INVITATION.

No.—, — St. Dec. 13, 18—.

MY DEAR BERTHA:—My recent great bereavement must plead my excuse for not attending the wedding of your dear daughter Aggie. I would not cloud the festal scene by my heavy weeds of mourning, and I could not lay them aside even for an hour while the wound in my heart is so fresh with grief. Deeply regretting that I cannot attend, I can only wish Aggie, in her new relations, the joyous life of happiness she so richly deserves.

Your sincere friend, HATTIE HARMON.

The "IVORY" is the finest Soap known for Laundry and general household use. It is made of Vegetable Oils, and everything used in its manufacture is the purest and the best, so it is absolutely pure. It is a Laundry Soap, with all the fine qualities of a choice Toilet Soap.

Ladies will find this Soap especially adapted for washing laces, infants' clothing, silk hose, cleaning gloves and all articles of fine texture and delicate color, and for the varied uses about the house that daily arise requiring the use of Soap that is above the ordinary in quality.

For the Bath, Toilet, or Nursery, it is preferred to most of the Soap sold for toilet use, being purer and much more pleasant and effective, and possessing all the desirable properties of the finest unadulterated White Castile Soap.

Many of the skin diseases arise from the coloring matter and impure materials used in Soap. The whiteness of the "Ivory" is prima facie evidence of its purity, and the vegetable oils used in it, being cooling and healing in their effect, leave the skin soft, smooth, and healthy.

The cakes are so shaped that they may be used entire for general purposes, or divided with a stout thread (as illustrated) into two perfectly-formed cakes, of convenient size for toilet use.

The price, compared to the quality and the size of the cakes, makes it the cheapest Soap for everybody and every want.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

F. R. AVERY,

46 Madison Street,

Artists' Materials,

Mother of Pearl Shells,

FINE DECORATED GOODS A SPECIALTY.

Dr. Goodrich Saponaceous Dentifrice, of Westfield, Mass.

The mouth and teeth to be perfectly healthy should be thoroughly cleansed daily. Proper attention to this will prevent decay and early loss of teeth.

TO THE PUBLIC!—Dr. Goodrich has been my dentist and I have used his powder for over ten years and I have never yet seen its equal. It is free from grit or any substance injurious to the teeth. It is sweet scented and pleasing to the taste and I take pleasure in recommending it to my many patrons to be all I claim for it. Price, 35c. per bottle.

F. R. AVERY, 46 Madison Street, sole Agent for the Northwest.

AVERY'S QUASSIA CUPS.

The London Medical Gazette, says:—"You may pour water, or light wine, into a Quassia Cup, and in one minute for water, and two minutes for wine, the cup will distil as if by magic. A tonic to sooth a fever, and to heal all disorders of the stomach."

Dunglison's Medical Encyclopedia, says:—"Bitters from the Quassia Cup act as a febrifuge to void a fever, to soothe it in all cases, and to cure it in many. A most serviceable tonic and stomachic."

Extract from "Chicago Tribune," Sunday, April 13, 1879:—"Have you ever had occasion to test the merits of Quassia wood in your practice?" asked a Tribune representative of Health Commissioner DeWolf. "Yes," replied the Doctor, "and I have found it a very valuable remedy in cases of dyspepsia and a debilitated state of the digestive organs." "Where is the wood obtained?" "It comes from Jamaica and the Caribbean Islands, where it grows,—a lofty tree known as the Bitter Ash. It takes its name from a negro named Quassi, who first brought it into notice as a medicine. It was introduced in Europe in 1756, and its virtues were soon recognized by the medical profession. The wood has an intensely bitter taste which imparts itself to water or alcohol. Drinking-cups for invalids are also made of the wood, the water being allowed to stand in the cups for a few moments. In this way it forms a simple and effective remedy, and is an excellent general tonic. The cups retain their strength for years."—Price, 50c. per cup. F. R. AVERY, Manufacturer, 46 Madison Street.
